Dedication

This year we are very happy to dedicate our book to Fr. Eugene Dwyer, S. J. Father has been very much a part of the school since he first came here about ten years ago. He moderates the bowling teams and has coached championship tennis teams for the last seven years. In the classroom he teaches Theology, English and algebra.

Mostly though, we wanted to dedicate this book to Fr. Dwyer because he expresses to us so much of what Christian joy means: helpfulness when we need help, concern when we need concern, happiness when we feel least like being happy.

And before we forget, we want to thank Father for all those times he prefected the gym for us.

It is then, to Father Eugene Dwyer, S.J., who has inspired us so much and so often, that we affectionately dedicate this book.

Football at Loyola is not a mere game; it is not a mere contest between individuals. It is this, yes, but it is much more. The sport becomes an obsession, the obsession a way of life. The spartan, grueling anguish of the summer heat; the endless agony of sprints and drills; the crushing, bruising clash of pad against pad, of man against man; all this creates another dimension to our lives, another sphere.

It is very lonely out on the field. You look at your friends, and they are not your friends anymore. For five hours a day, five months of the year, your life-long friends become your immediate enemies. You leave your friendships and your real personality back in the locker room, and your real self awaits there until the body arrives to take it up again. The coaches rule with despotic authority, and there is always something to be done, something to be improved. Everyone is out there with a single thought in mind, get the job done.

And the job is done. The summer passes and the fall arrives. Mt. Carmel is first, time for revenge. Revenge is had. St. Rita falls, then Leo. St. Laurence's dreams are shattered. Fenwick and Hales bow. The victories are coming, but the price is great. Injured players limp off the field never to return again. Coach Spoo encourages us. Coaches Powers, Amato, Erlenbaugh, and Wright are all prodding us. When the price is great, the rewards are greater. They are fine men, and their greatness rubs off on us. Soldiers Field is in sight. An unbeaten season is within our grasp. If we only had a little rest, time for us to heal, we could do it. But there is no time. Reality confronts us. We finally fall. Our hopes are destroyed. Our best was not good enough. "The injuries killed you," we are told. That does not console us. Tears come to everyone's eyes. Defeat is a hard thing to take. For some there is no next year. Failure hangs over everyone.

The unbelievable thing is that we'd do it all over again. You can see it in everyone's eyes. Pride is etched in every face. We hold our heads high. For we all have learned something, something that can be taught no where else. We realize that it was all worth it. All the suffering, all the sweat had a purpose. For we did not alienate our real persons during those months of practice, we merely set our desires aside to join something bigger; a team. We had all sacrificed in order to better the group. There formed a common bond between us that was very real. A sense of self-pride arose. Love and respect for each other cemented the coaching staff and the team together into a unit. We emerged as different people. We knew that we were the best and we took consolation in the fact that everyone else knew it too. Everyone else realized that the best team had not won the championship. We had won many and lost few. In victory and defeat we emerged as a group together. We wouldn't have had it any other way

When Coach James Arneberg made official his retirement from the coaching ranks last spring, all ears were anxiously awaiting the announcement of his replacement. In his first and only year as head b-ball mentor, Coach Arneberg had compiled a most impressive 25-6 record. Now, Loyola had to locate a man who could assume the post Coach Arneberg had vacated and put our eagers in contention for the Catholic League Championship. So whom did they hire? Just the best coach in the Catholic League, in the person of Bill Gleason, former head varsity basketball coach at DePaul Academy! Coach Gleason would bring a fantastic record and a history of Catholic Championships with him. However, he would be the third head coach in as many years for our men of the wood courts. Could the players, who were now accustomed to the fast-break run and shoot offensive minded game plan of Coach Arneberg, now adjust themselves to the patterned offense and defensive oriented strategy of Coach Gleason?

The basketball season promised to be an interesting one for this reason.

The teams assembled for the first time for spring practice in May and all quickly learned that the conversion was not going to be easy. New drills were practiced and patterns were run during the spring and summer sessions in hope of getting our eagers prepared, but what the future had in store was, at first, disheartening.

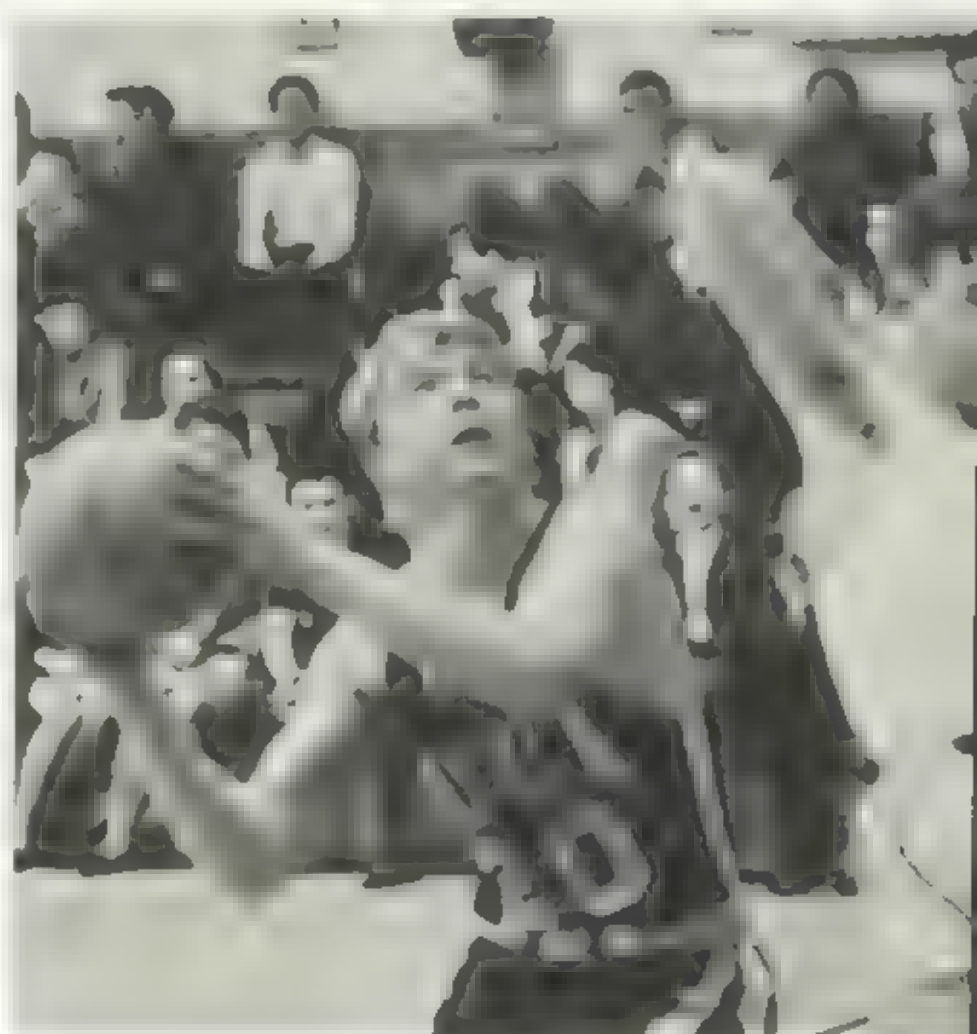

Hopes sank and spirits waned as the Heavyweight team dropped its first eight decisions due simply to lack of organization. But they finally put the pieces together and triumphed in four of their next six contests, displaying a never-say-die attitude and a rejuvenated spirit. They participated in two pre-season tournaments. In one, they battled their way into the finals before bowing out to Gordon Tech in the championship match and, in the second, they manhandled their first two opponents but had to settle for a fourth place finish.

In January, league competition started and here the Rambler victory train began to roll. They toppled their first five opponents and finished their first half of the league play with an unblemished 5-0 record. In the second half, the going was much more difficult and the Ramblers ended with an overall league record of 7-3 good enough for the second place slot in the division standings.

show in their first playoff match, as they fell to the tough Leo Lions. But all things considered, the team is to be commended for its great spirit and giving us a season we'll not soon forget!

The Lightweights, even though young in age and experience, looked talented from the start and began their season strong. They came out on top in their first 9 of 12 contests, reeling off 6 straight victories. In preseason action, they entered the Fenwick Tournament and encountered rugged opposition. However, they destroyed their first three opponents and were, thus, awarded the right to play for the championship. But St. Rita was too much to handle that night and we went down in defeat, being presented with the second place trophy

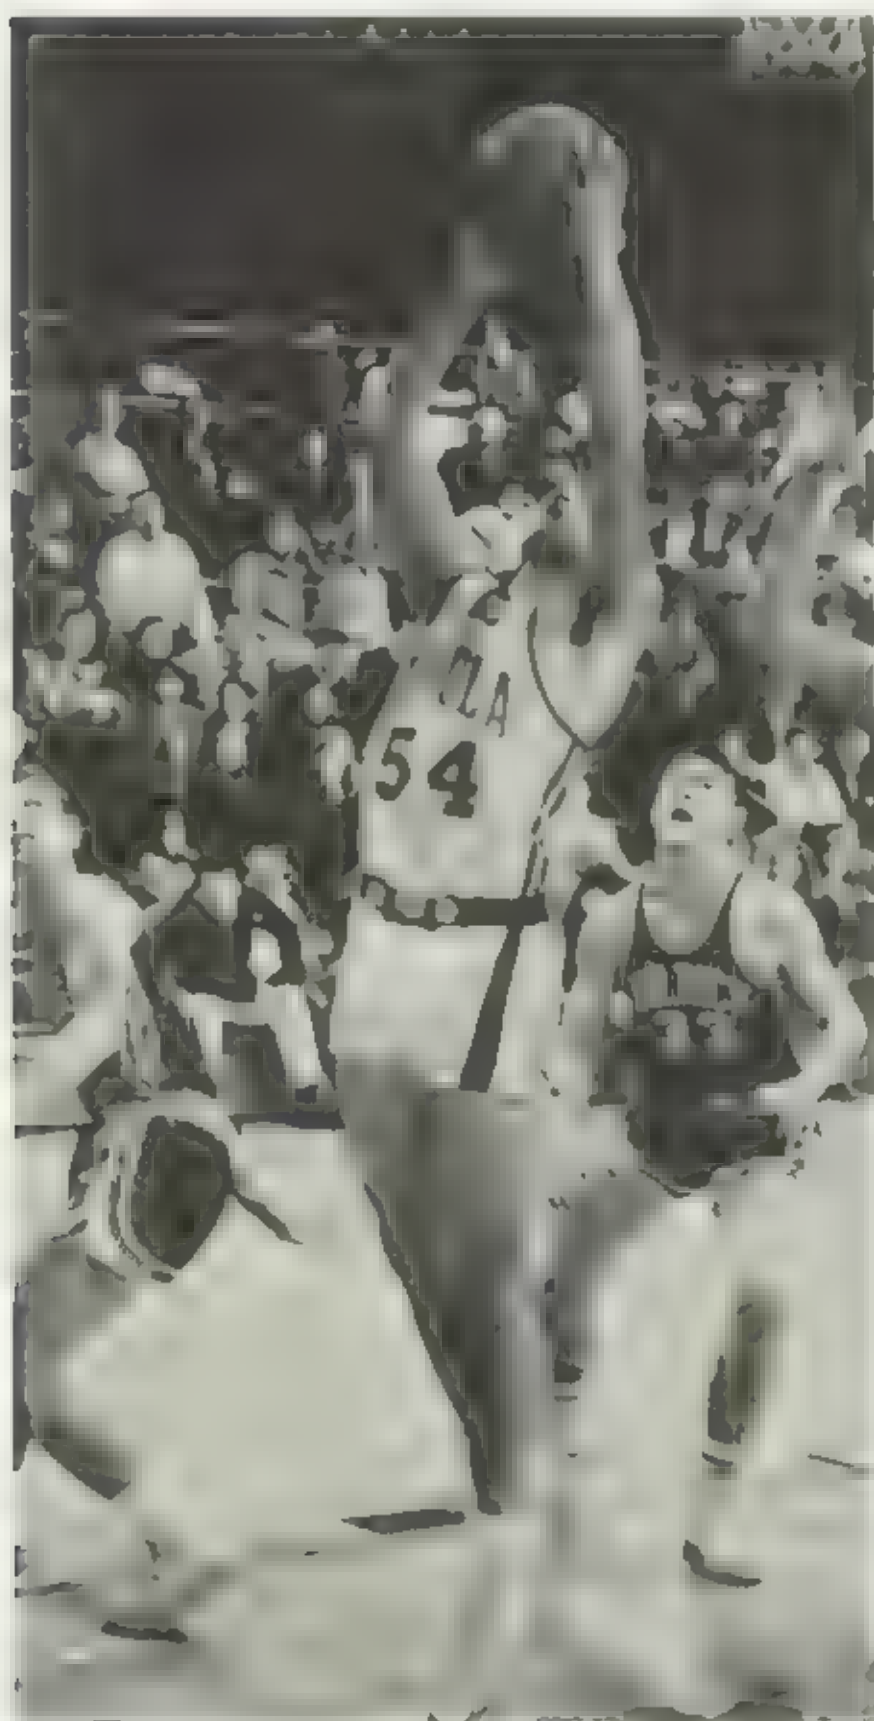

When league play commenced, things did not look very bright at first. The Lights lost their opener, but from there they went on to emerge victorious in 7 of their final 9 battles, finding themselves in sole possession of second place in their division.

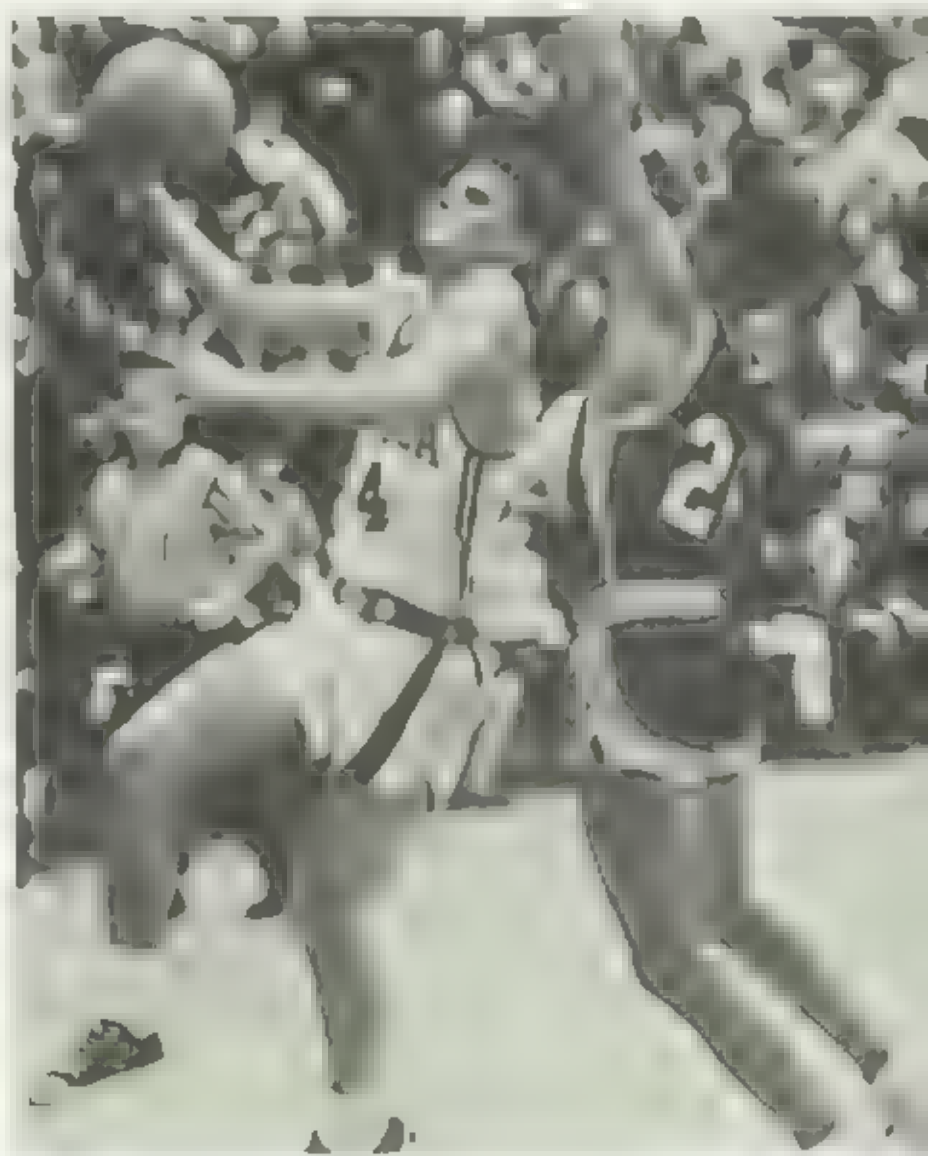

The playoffs started, but the title was not in our stars. We dropped a tough 2 point decision to St. Rita in our first contest and the basketball year came to a close. As we look back, their season was a great one, but, with all their youth and poise, the lightweights will be even better next year.

SWIMMING—

This season Loyola's Swimming and Diving teams and their coaches Phil Stelnicki and Mickey McGuire set many new standards for the teams to come. The Varsity had an extraordinary undefeated record in dual meets against such strong competitors as Fenwick and Brother Rice. Both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity contributed to a total win over Fenwick, an unprecedented event in Loyola's swimming history.

Individuals contributed to the total effort to the best of their ability. Seniors such as Bob Rolfes, who set a new National Catholic Swimming record in the fifty-yard freestyle. Chuck O'Brien who led the breast stroke and individual medley attack, John Colnon, Mike McKeever, Tom Huff, and Al Gastorek, the heads of the freestyle department, all contributed one-hundred percent. The Juniors also carried their weight. The undisputed head of the Juniors is Chris Hansen. All the other Juniors, including Mark Lorge in the Individual Medley and the Backstroke, Tom Lyons in the Medley Relay and the Breaststroke, and Terry Scully and Jay Baxter in the four hundred freestyle backed up the Seniors to form a solid, devastating squad.

On the Junior Varsity, many future stars have appeared. Outstanding are the Ford brothers, John and Todd. The performances turned in by these two in the freestyle events can only point to the years to come. Another freestyler, Rick Casas, swam with Todd Ford in the fifty-yard freestyle and the freestyle relay events. The other JayVee team members followed through to beat both Fenwick and Brother Rice in dual meets.

The Loyola divers, Dave Pierce, Rick Nash, Jerry Van Heltebrake, Frank Nash, and Greg Mueller, came through the season with an amazingly successful record. The highlight of the diving season was senior Dave Pierce's come-from-behind victory in the City Championships. This effort earned Dave a treasured berth on the 1968 All-State Swim Team.

Thus, even though the results of the National Championships were less than satisfying, the season proved to be a most successful and memorable one.

WRESTLING

In late November, Coach Wright greeted one of the finest wrestling turnouts in Loyola's history. About sixty "boys" reported on the first day of practice. One week later there were forty-five "men" on the squad.

Many people don't realize that wrestling encompasses three words—Blood, Sweat, and Tears. While people are eating their evening meals, most wrestlers are dreaming about it. Making weight is one of the most arduous tasks performed by the wrestlers.

This year's squad, like many Loyola teams this year, was plagued by the injury bug. Even before the season began, Art Ferrara and Jack VanderSchilden were injured during Football, and didn't recover in time for the start of the season. Then the bug struck again. This time both Joe House and Pat Cummings broke their wrists. But it didn't end there. Ed Kane then tore ligaments in his knee. This was a disastrous injury for Ed, since he was having a tremendous year until the injury. Finally, to end the list, Ken Siegl broke his wrist and Chris Ford suffered a concussion.

This year's squad was very young and should be very tough for the next few years. Tom Garrity, Joe House, Pat Cummings, Rick Pastor, Joe Hayes, Chris Ford, Art Ferrara, Mike Casella, Mike Schnitzius, Al Schorsch, John Foran, and Dave Fear will all be returning.

Next year's team will unfortunately lose spartan wrestler Jack Spezman through graduation. Jack, one of the best football players in LA history, also was one of the finest wrestlers. His record speaks for itself. In three years of varsity competition, he compiled a record of seventy-two wins against only one loss. His only defeat came in a tournament after he had grappled with the Hong Kong flu. For two weeks, Jack is two-time National and City Champion. He also captained the team as a junior and a senior. What a competitor!

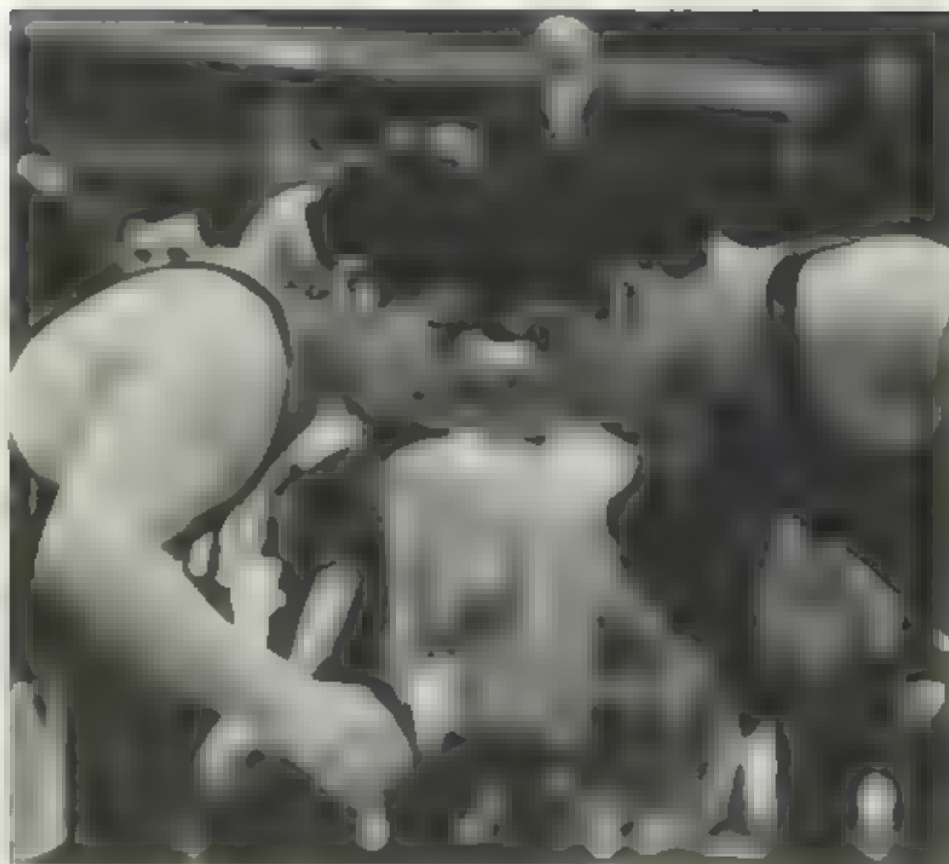

This year's other captain was junior Art Ferrara. Art suffered a severely broken wrist during the football season. At the beginning of Wrestling, he was still in a cast. But with determination and guts, Art battled his way back and ended up by taking a third in City competition.

Sophs Tom Garrity and Joe Hayes were just outstanding in their first year of varsity wrestling. Expect some great grappling from these two in the next two years

Juniors Dave Fear and John Foran also deserve commendation. Both in their first year of varsity competition, they wrestled like seasoned veterans. Dave led the team with seventeen pins. John finished out the season with a real bang, pinning his last few opponents

Coach Fred Wright deserves tremendous praise for this year's record. Under his tutelage the team progressed tremendously. The whole team wishes to thank him for a great year. Thanks again, Coach'

TRACK

[illegible]

Track

Track season starts as soon as we get back from Christmas vacation. Coach Amato and Mr. Bueter, S.J., run the team into shape with daily drills and workouts. There are about one hundred students pounding the gym balcony. If you aren't in shape, how can you run in the meets?

Track is an individual sport with team effort. Each relay team member knows the others' ability and desire to win. By the end of the season, the original one hundred has dwindled to about forty.

This year the team has a new coach, Mr. Bob Tamm. He knows how to train the squad to put out its full effort in the final crucial seconds when it counts.

Evidence that the team members want to win and never give up can be shown by a look at their record. The Junior Varsity had a very fine season and hopes are that it will be even better next year. The Varsity also had a season to be proud of. All of these team members were anxious for a challenge, fought to win, and usually came off victorious. Many were veterans of previous seasons and brought quite a bit of competence with them. If next year's teams have the same desire, the same great coaches, and as great a unity as this year's teams, they will compile a record that they, too, can be proud of.

The Loyola Baseball team which finished second in the Catholic League in 1968 started off poorly and never quite caught fire till the final week of the season. There were six returnees from the Ramblers' 1968 North Section champion team: R. (Weasel) Clark, Steve (DumDum) Dumser, Jeff (Duper) DuPré, John (Stretch) Martinov, Tom (Rocky) Robison, and Larry Baer. Senior Bill (Boom-Boom) Schniedwind and juniors Jim (Flance) Kirn and Bill (Willie J.) Deevy rounded off the starting line-up. Other team members were J. Farrell, B. Frank, T. Gleason, B. Myers, E. O'Connor, S. Rebarchek, T. Rebarchek, R. Rossi, T. Ryan, A. Spreitzer, G. Steger. The brothers O'Loughlin, John and Jim, coached the team.

The season got off to a rough start when six practice games were cancelled because of the weather. The Ramblers' defense was hurt most by the loss of practice, as errors contributed to early downfalls. The season did end on a bright note, however, with the Ramblers winning their final three games to finish 9-8, tied for third place in the North Section.

STATISTICS: Highest Av: J. Martinov .478; Home Runs: Deevy, Dumser; Triples: Robison (2); Doubles: Martinov (5); Hits: Martinov (24); RBI: Deevy (13); ERA: Clark 2.47 Won 4, Lost 2.

The team won its first two matches, defeating Fenwick by only one stroke, and St. Laurence by three strokes. Then they traveled to Kenosha, Wisconsin, only to be defeated by a strong St. Joseph team. The city championship at Palos Country Club was next with our varsity team carrying a 2-1 record. Loyola finished second in this meet behind a hot Fenwick team. Junior Tim Collins took medalist honors with a 75. Tim O'Grady had an 82, Mark Anderson an 86, Randy Chester, a sophomore playing varsity, an 88, and Dan Schaefer a 90. The JV team managed to finish fourth in this meet after completing the season with a commendable record.

HOCKEY

The Loyola icemen, weakened by the graduation of many key skaters, came on strong to take second place in the Catholic League and earn a spot in the playoffs. Unfortunately for Coach Dan Corns' charges, the Ramblers were eliminated in two games by the Fenwick Friars. Penalties were the decisive factor in that series. Preliminary to the first playoff game, it was announced that Captain Pat McCourt, Ass't Captain Tom Machowski, and Mike Leary had been named to the All-Star Team.

During the regular season, the Ramblers were unscathed except for two losses to League champion Brother Rice, and a tie with Mt. Carmel. In addition to the regular Catholic League, the Hockey team played exhibition games at Lake Forest, North Shore, and Milwaukee. The Ramblers' reserves were given much "ice time" in these contests. The team loses only seniors to graduation this year, and expects a strong nucleus for next year.

Plans for next year's team received a severe jolt when junior defenseman Mark Monroe died as a result of an accident at a local rink. In his memory, the team members set up a scholarship fund for future hockey players of Loyola.

Band—

One of the most respected organizations at Loyola is the Loyola Academy Marching Band. This well-trained unit has become a familiar sight and sound at numerous Academy functions. From inciting the spirit of victory at pep rallies and in the stands of Sachs Field and other arenas to providing enjoyable halftime entertainment, Mr. Kenneth Bartosz has molded his band into an ever-present symbol of Loyola excellence. The following are the musicians grouped according to their instruments: BAND DIRECTOR Mr. Kenneth Bartosz; FLUTE AND PICCOLO P. Cummings, CLARINETS P. Burik, W. Wienski, C. Matz, G. Foster, R. Figlewicz, G. Gunning, D. Ullrich, G. Furst, R. Moore, G. Gross, G. Unzeitig, J. Scaltziti, M. Fragnasi, T. Leicht, G. Happ, V. Masciopinto, R. Fahrenbach, BASSOON M. Moriarty, SAXOPHONES J. Hauronic, D. Freeman, A. Happ, J. Latona, T. Kleeman, M. French; CORNETS—TRUMPETS F. Cusack, R. Abbott, J. Noferi, T. Kurgan, R. Schaeffer, M. Lodge, K. Ianagan, J. Homan, M. Dooley, R. Wienski, C. Marcyan, T. Batina, R. Boos, P. Polwen, D. Sabato; FRENCH HORNS T. Kaster, T. Novotny, TROMBONES D. Schmitt, R. Case, J. Rusek, J. Burke, W. Spellman, S. Wesoloski, P. Jaeger, J. Tracz; BARITONE HORN Daniel Isaac; TUBA E. Miguel, M. Ward, J. Syron, M. Lambert, STRING BASS C. Lewandowski, PERCUSSION J. Donnelly, G. Rotta, R. Dewey, R. Ryan, T. Robinson, J. Sullivan, J. King, J. Seyller, C. Sullivan, J. Alverdy.

In January, Mr. Kenneth Bartosz's "marching band" moved into the national limelight after making its impressive halftime performances. It was a pleasant surprise that our band, in only its fourth year of existence, was chosen to represent the State of Illinois at the Inaugural Parade in Washington; yet, it was an honor well-deserved for a job well-done by the hard-working Loyola men and their tireless director

In addition to the band members, the following served as honor guard: C. Bartels, J. Kern, T. Gorman, C. Hoffman, T. Valenti, H. White, J. Kennedy, J. Hines, J. Ortinau, J. Dore, K. Nelson, M. O'Rourke, R. Stone, H. Higuera, S. Orticelli, J. Andre

Concert Band

Loyola Academy's Concert Band is a more classical branch of Mr. Bartosz's corps of musicians. They are the familiar group always present at such events as GUYS AND DOLLS and the Talvue. This year they entertained audiences in a variety of states—Ohio, District of Columbia, and Indiana, not to mention their numerous performances in their home state, Illinois. The out-of-state concerts were given on the now-famous trip to Washington for President Nixon's Inauguration. This excellent group of musicians received a fine reception at all of these performances

THE GUILD—The Guild is a group of artistically inclined Loyolans who use their talents to graphically advertise forthcoming events during the school year.

From their basement shop flows a steady stream of artistically and intellectually creative posters. The posters may possibly go unnoticed quite often by preoccupied students rushing from class to class. However, if one should stop to consider a poster's message and artistic value, he would probably never regret having spent the time to do so. Whether the tone be humorous, sarcastic, or serious, the point always is meaningful and clear.

Besides providing a useful means of expressing artistic talent, the Guild serves as an important means of information for the student.

TORCH CLUB

Leadership is fundamental in the proper functioning of a school, and Loyola has been traditionally blessed with a multitude of leaders. The Torch Club is the organization of those people who are considered the outstanding leaders of the school by the student body and faculty.

This year's Torch Club officers were Tom Gleason, Ken Nelson, Rich Kelly, and J. B. Kennedy.

Besides its important role of promoting leadership within the school, the Torch Club plays an important role in organizing and sponsoring many social events throughout the school year. The Torch Club runs the sock hops during the football and basketball seasons and is also in charge of arrangements for the Tulip Trot.

The Torch Club provides ushers for many occasions during the year also. Torch Club members usher at football and basketball games and other activities which require their services. Probably the most important ushering service the Torch Club performs is during the graduation ceremonies.

The Torch Club has been described as the most elite of all Loyola's student clubs and organizations. We believe that this description fits the Club perfectly.

MOTHERS' CLUB

The Mothers' Club is a very important organization at Loyola Academy. Oftentimes working unnoticed, the mothers do quite a bit of profitable work for the students. An example of this is the job placement center which aids many students in acquiring jobs.

The Mothers' Club also sponsors a style show which is always excellent. Their luncheons, card parties, and other endeavors on behalf of the school are deeply appreciated. In numerous ways the Club continues to raise necessary funds for the school. The December Auction is a prime example of their fund raising. All of us, students and faculty, are grateful for the many ways that the Mothers' Club helps Loyola.

HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB

During a year and a quarter of its existence, the Loyola Academy Human Relations Club has endeavored to realize the program outlined by Cardinal Cody. This program envisions three steps: 1) Introduction, 2) Dissemination, 3) Community Action.

At the beginning of this school year, membership consisted of some 50 members, led by Kevin Lanagan as President, Ed Kane, Vice President, Charles Bartels, Secretary, and Dennis Depke, Treasurer. Seven different committees were organized, with the membership distributed according to their preferences. Joint meetings were held on Sunday mornings with Regina, Marillac, and Hales Franciscan.

During the second quarter, filmstrips and tapes on the general topic of Human Relations and racial prejudice were presented at the weekly meetings.

In that an attempt at the second stage, "Dissemination" was being planned for the fourth quarter — namely giving the giving of speeches by the members in the various classrooms, the third quarter was spent in preparation. The members were admirably helped in this phase by weekly addresses by the Loyola Academy faculty members, Fathers Ferguson, Heim, Burrill, and Mr. Robert Bueter, S.J., and Mr. Silverman.

The Russian Club consisted of the 14 students in second year and the eighteen in first year.

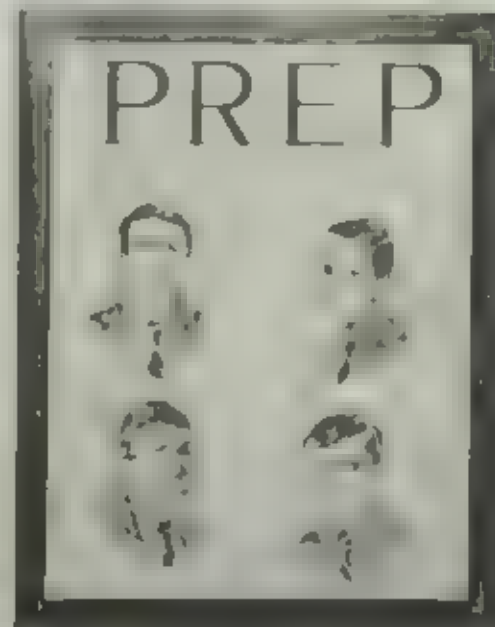

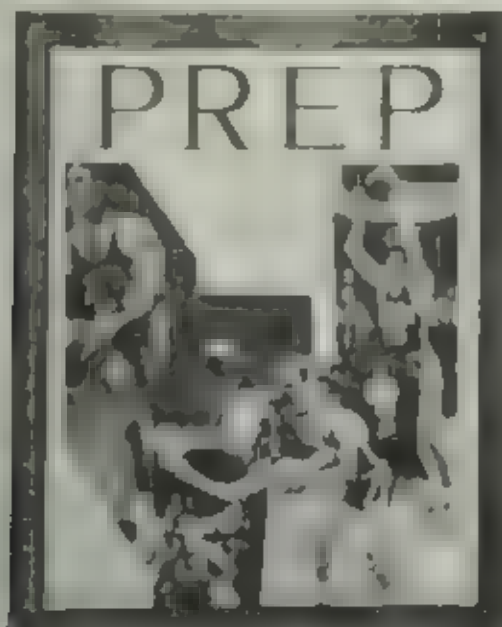

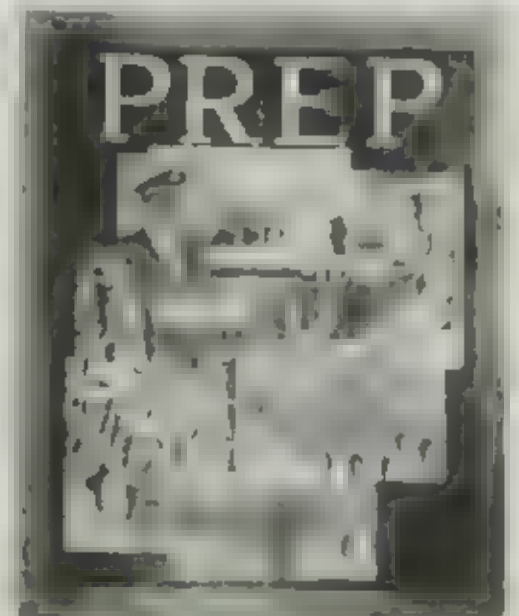

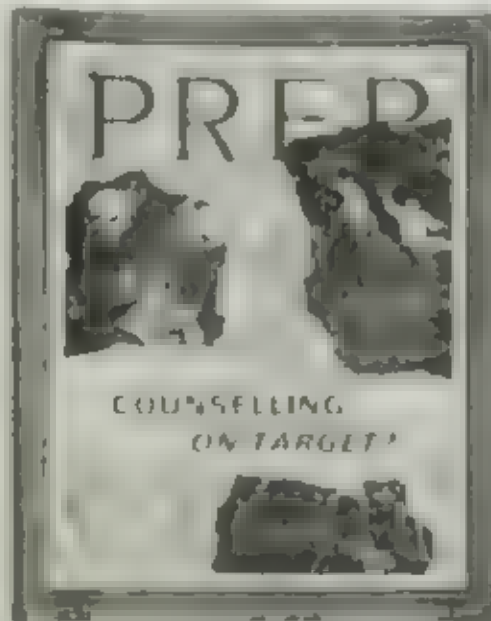

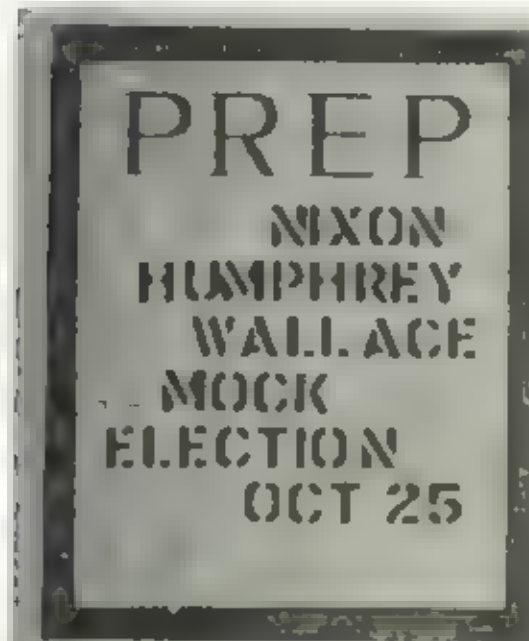

In late March the Club attended a "Russian Mixer" along with twenty other schools at DuPage College. Loyola's contribution to the festivities was the singing of two Russian songs. On April 27th, the Club invited their families and friends to attend the "Second Annual Loyola Academy May Day," which brought an audience of 100, —first to Mass in the Student Chapel, then to Brunch in the Cafeteria. Afterwards, a program of six songs was presented.

At the Annual State Russian Contest, held on May 24 at Hinsdale, "Superior" rating was won by Victor Bender, '70, and "Excellent" by Richard Gayes, '71, and Thomas Chomicz, '72.

Happenings

Each fall, Loyola's football team is honored by the Torch Club with the Homecoming Dance. It is the high point of the school's fall social calendar. This year the gym was decorated with reproductions of some of the brawny battlers of the gridiron. In the center was a float depicting the triumph of Loyola over its threatening foes. The same float, along with an entry from each of the four classes, appeared the next Sunday at Loyola's first Homecoming float parade.

CONCERT

The second (and hopefully annual) concert was given this fall by the recording group "The Rotary Connection." It marked the second time that Loyola was able to obtain a top rate rock group to perform at the school. Students from Loyola and other area high schools filled the gym. A small group of seniors who were occupying the first rows became so enthused with the music that they stood up and danced at their places. The Rotary Connection responded with that kind of music that has always characterized their group. We hope that the Student Council will continue with this idea in future years with possibly two concerts a year instead of one.

Mr. Roberts was Loyola's entry in the 1968 Chicago Drama Festival. Under the direction of Mr. Karlan, S. J., the play was thoroughly enjoyed by a full house at Jones Commercial High School. Kevin Harty portrayed Mr. Roberts, who was constantly arguing with the choleric Captain Morton, played by John Dunn. The wacky crew of the AIS-601 was composed of Larry Donoghue, Mike Walters, Bob Gransee, Gerry Stief, Bill Barranco, Peter Wickam, and Bob Ray. John Wolfe was the narrator and won a silver medal for his excellent performance. The role of Ensign Pulver was played by John Nixon, who also worked on the technical part of the production. Ron Wesolowski, also on the technical end, took charge of the lighting and the sound duties. Several observers commented that it was the best play Loyola had entered in the festival for some years.

CHRISTMAS WHIRL—This year's Christmas Whirl found the Loyola Academy gymnasium transformed into something resembling a turn of the century Christmas complete with mistletoe, a giant Christmas tree, and a sleigh. Old-fashioned chandeliers were appropriately placed to afford just the proper amount of light for a good atmosphere. This is the one dance that the alumni are invited to attend with the student body

TALENT REVUE—The beginning of February spotlighted Loyola's Hollywood Palace to present the incomparable L.A. Talvuc. The show was aired for two nights which were both sell-outs, but the competitive spirit was shown outstandingly on the second night when the Hogan Trophy was to be awarded.

Singers, pianists, pantomime companies, jazz musicians, dancers, and other performers competed. This year's show was acclaimed to be one of the Academy's finest. The Regina girls in the audience were able to see their school take home the big Hogan Trophy, which they well deserved for a truly professional job.

BAL MASQUE

One night last February, the Loyola cafeteria was transposed into a Chinese teahouse. Chinese lettering adorned the pillars. A fire-breathing dragon, created by John O'Hara, was pasted on a wall. A similar beast made of crepe paper guarded one of the doorways. The usual sport coats and ties were discarded, and a myriad of costumes were donned, ranging from the farmer and his wife to a pair of Mouseketeers.

"GUYS & DOLLS"—Sky Masterson, the good guy gambler, rolled dice to delight all the people in LA's Little Theater, last March. This was the Academy's second musical

Months of preparation went into the fantastic production. Backdrops had to be painted, costumes and make-up ordered, music rehearsed, "a cast of thousands" assembled, and lines were learned

"Guys & Dolls" was a stupendous success. The applause at the conclusion of the five sell-out performances could be heard all the way to Broadway. The "Star" of the play was Pat Hackett, who played the impressive, Sky Masterson. Judy Roman of Regina played Sarah, the Salvation Army Sergeant

TULIP TROT—Students that decided to attend this year's Tulip Trot found something reminiscent of a South Sea island in place of their gymnasium. A Polynesian god guarded the door against any would be intruders. There was a small lagoon outside that could be crossed by means of a bridge. Many stated that they found this dance one of the most lavishly decorated of any this year

F Gleason

JUNIOR DANCE—Last fall, a small group of Juniors from this year's class began toying with the idea of initiating a dance belonging exclusively to Juniors. Observing that the Junior Class was the only class not having a dance or social function of its own, the proposal seemed justifiable.

The proposal was brought to Fr. Reinke for approval. He gave his approval with the stipulation that there would be a pre-sale of tickets to insure financial success. The pre-sale met its quota and the dance committee was given the green light.

Mr. Partyka, S.J. was selected as the moderator and the date was set for May 16. Ed Hughes and Mike Foley were the primary coordinators of the dance preparation. "The Big Top" was selected as the theme and the gym was decorated accordingly.

On the night of the dance, the gym vibrated with the electric beat of "The Albatross" and "The Static Reaction." As the night wore on, everyone seemed thankful for the opportunity of having the Junior Dance.

The following week-end the Freshmen and Sophomores took over the gym for their annual Frosh-Soph Dance. They used the same decorations and with the same spirit as the Juniors, made the dance into a resounding success.

SENIOR PROM

Each spring finds Loyola's seniors busily preparing for what many seniors consider the crowning point of their social careers in high school. THE night—Senior Prom Night

The scrimping and the saving, the tux measurements, the table arrangements, the reservations—they all lead up to that day when the seniors and their dates enter the Palmer House's impressive Grand Ballroom. Their daily companions turn instantly into super-sophisticates with the donning of a tux. Our dates become something to be especially admired and placed on a pedestal. Dinner comes first, and then the dancing. Afterwards, numerous parties fill out the schedule. Soon prom night, with its happy hours flashing by like seconds, comes to an end

GRADUATION—Saturday, June 7, marked the last day that the class of '69 was directly affiliated with Loyola Academy as students. It is hoped that they have left a mark that will be carried on by next year's class. Upon leaving Loyola, they will find that they are faced with a myriad of social, political, and philosophical difficulties. The war drags on, tension between the races is continually intensified, the Judaeo-Christian heritage seems to be losing its relevance. Yes, things are changing, but we must turn to today's youth to institute constructive change. It is hoped that Loyola will have produced sufficiently wise and knowledgeable men to make the world a place where people can live side by side in peaceful coexistence.
